"RESERVED" the whole page | "Honey," (Duck)

Since you saved this whole page for me to sign I'll fill it up fast. I just want to say I'm glad we got to know each other better, because it was a ~~—~~ start of a good relationship that will last for ever. We've had our up's and down's but they all turned out good, the way we wanted them to. Tom, you mean more to me then anything else in the world, and without you life wouldn't mean anything. You've given me everything a girl could ever want, happiness, love, trust, and anything else that falls under this. Tom, its wonderful to have someone like you to love. Someone to plan with and to share the things we're dreaming of, and even though I've said these words, "I love you so" before, each time I say them, Sweetheart, I mean them even more.

-Tom- "70"

To a really neat guy whom I have had the pleasure of knowing real well for four years. Although this is our last year of high school together
I hope we always remain good friends. Good luck with Sheila in the years to come, I hope everything turns out for the best for you as years progress.
Always remember me & think of me as a friend not as "Clash."
I feel very honored to be the first to write in your book.

room this year. Keep up the good work. I hope life a rough year in art too.

RIP
70'

Tom,
Well, this is our last year as fellow students at wonderful (?) F.H.S. In some ways this past few years have been wonderful. We adore physic even Mader Rouge. You know Tom, you've taught me a lot about living and about my attitudes toward living. I don't think I can ever thank you enough for this. You've also dared me up and made me madder in (real) at you but you have always been yourself. Keep on being yourself Tom and don't ever change too much because you're great. Good Luck Tom, have a good life and God Bless You.

Barby

I guess I got carried away and almost filled up two pages. Before I take up all the space in your yearbook, I'd better sign off. I hope the years to follow will be as happy as the past 1 yr. 2 months and 2 weeks & 1 day has been for me. Just remember "I love you with all my heart." May God Bless you always! Lots of Luck in everything you do.

yours until the ocean wears rubber pants to keep its bottoms dry. HA!HA!

with love forever

FRANKENMUTH, MICHIGAN

FRANKENMUTH—THIS IS

Frankenmuth—this is Eagle Country!!!

This year, 1969, was a memorable, exciting, and rewarding year, in which Frankenmuth High School students proved themselves to be 'number one in the Thumb' many times over.

In the field of sports, Frankenmuth's varsity football team proved they could do it, by capturing the Class C State Football Championship Title for the first time in school history.

The basketball and track teams were equally exceptional, as both teams advanced to regional competition, proving once again that determination, pride, and skill help develop winning teams.

In the academic field, Frankenmuth's graduating seniors received thirty-three scholarships, totaling almost thirteen thousand. Underclassmen also appeared on the honor roll a record number of times.

Forensics and Debate teams captured many honors this year, as Frankenmuth sported awards and trophies from both teams.

As a whole, Frankenmuth High School enjoyed a unified, determined, and successful school year.

We are all proud of our school, its students, and their accomplishments. On the following pages, we present to you the EAGLE IMAGE, as each picture represents an image of the students and school.

With this, we proudly present the 1969 Eyrie.

MEET THE EXECUTIVE BRANCH OF

From the pleased look on Superintendent Jerold McEwen's face it appears he enjoys his work.

Assisted by Kay Roedel, Mrs. Kitty Lee, seated, sees that all of the work in the district office is completed.

The school board of the Frankenmuth School District deals with school policy, determining the extent of academic and extracurricular activity to be offered. The board has proven to be an essential and influential part of school life, and remains in close contact with school programs.

School Board members seated l. to r.: W. Riethmeier, E. F. Rittmueller, W. Frahm, president, J. McEwen, superintendent, H. Braeutigam, R. Bauer, and H. Krafft. Missing is B. English.

EAGLE COUNTRY . . .

Industrious Dave Dietzel is hard at work picking up the numerous tardy slips.

GUIDANCE AND RESEARCH PLAY

Mrs. Janice Dore and Roger Tompkins, head the Frankenmuth High School guidance department, and aid students in their selection of high school classes and college study.

Betty Pahl, Frankenmuth High School and Saginaw Business School graduate, now serves as the guidance office secretary. Betty keeps close watch on the school files, fills out report cards, and serves as personal secretary to Mrs. Dore and Coach Tompkins, and will assist Mrs. Atkins next year, when she assumes Mrs. Dore's position of guidance counselor.

Roger Tompkins gives advice to Chuck Rustem on a future vocation.

IMPORTANT ROLES . . .

Mrs. Judith Maier, head librarian, poses with her efficient staff consisting of l. to r. James Frahm, Sharon Daenzer, Darlene Jammer, Sue Haubenstricker, Marcia Dietzel, and Mary Anderson.

Ambitious students Dave Dietzel, Gary Scharrer and Greg Fetterman seek the silent solace of the library to pursue the quest for knowledge.

Mrs. Maier assists ambitious student Dave Trinklein in his search for material through use of the microfilm machine.

Student overpopulation results in such congested areas as the west building stairway where many students enroute to the Library risk their lives each day.

LUNCHTIME IS GROOVY . . .

Ravenous students from the west building stampede outside as lunch hour begins. Shortly afterwards the unfortunate photographer was trampled beneath the thundering hooves, of such sprinters as Bruce Renick, Tom Weber, Brick Counzelmann, Chip Weiss and Neil 'Whitey' Herzog. The female portion of the stampeding herd smartly stayed behind to avoid a needless mishap.

These ladies have the task of feeding three hundred starving pupils everyday. They are l. to r. Mrs. Helen Block, Mrs. Leona Weber, Mrs. Hildegard Mauer, and Mrs. Christine Rummel.

KEEPING EAGLE COUNTRY CLEAN . . .

Albert Veitengrueber and Alois Schmitzer serve as head janitorial supervisors, and are shown taking time off from busy schedule to discuss problems.

Keeping the schools clean and in good repair are the well known and faithful custodians. Without them the traffic jams in the halls wouldn't be people! Standing from left to right are: Albert Veitengrueber, Paul Wenzloff, Melvin Trinklein, Mike English, Gretchen Schmitzer, Arno Fischer, Alois Schmitzer, Verna Keinath, and Elsie Fischer.

Another important group of people who work behind the scenes are the bus drivers. Even though the students don't always say so, these people are very much appreciated. Standing from left to right are: Sharon Vinten, Ervin Keinath, Gaylord Gidley, Hildagard Merten, Viola Krausneck, Art Hildner, Esther Haubenstricker, Dorothy Tank, and kneeling are Marvel Katona, and Elsie Fischer.

ENGLISH CLASSES

Arthur Loesel, beams proudly with the bear cake presented to him by his admiring students. It was these same students who, convinced Mr. Loesel that the passing bell had already rung, thereby allowing them to leave the classroom fifteen minutes early.

Students of Mrs. Atkin's English Literature class burned q u i c k l y through THE GRAPES OF WRATH by John Steinbeck. In appreciation, her students presented Mrs. Atkins with a charred copy of the book.

Erik Swanson's United States Literature class ponders over the exciting material they have just read. Mr. Swanson also instructs freshman and sophomore English classes. Students pictured are Dean Bierlein, Rick Preston, Dave Voorheis, Greg Reinert, Paul List, and Brick Counzelmann.

Mr. Loesel instructs freshmen Paula Riethmeier and John Bender as to the proper usage of the various parts of speech. Mr. Loesel, in addition to Communication Skills, teaches United States Literature.

OFFER VARIETY . . .

Miss Roger's follows along as her freshman communication skills students read a play aloud.

Concentration seems to be the keynote as these students puzzle over a difficult test.

Freshman students in Miss Joyce Kelsen's communication skills class appear ready to discuss a finer point of English with her.

English courses appeal to all four grades with varied lines of study. The English department consists of communication skills, English literature, American literature, creative writing, ancient literature, and journalism, which provides a wide program from which a student may choose. Since three credits in English are required for graduation, a broadened department was created to fill the needs and desires of the English student.

Avid journalism students listen attentively as Wendy Wessborg emphasizes a point. Journalism was an addition to the curriculum this year.

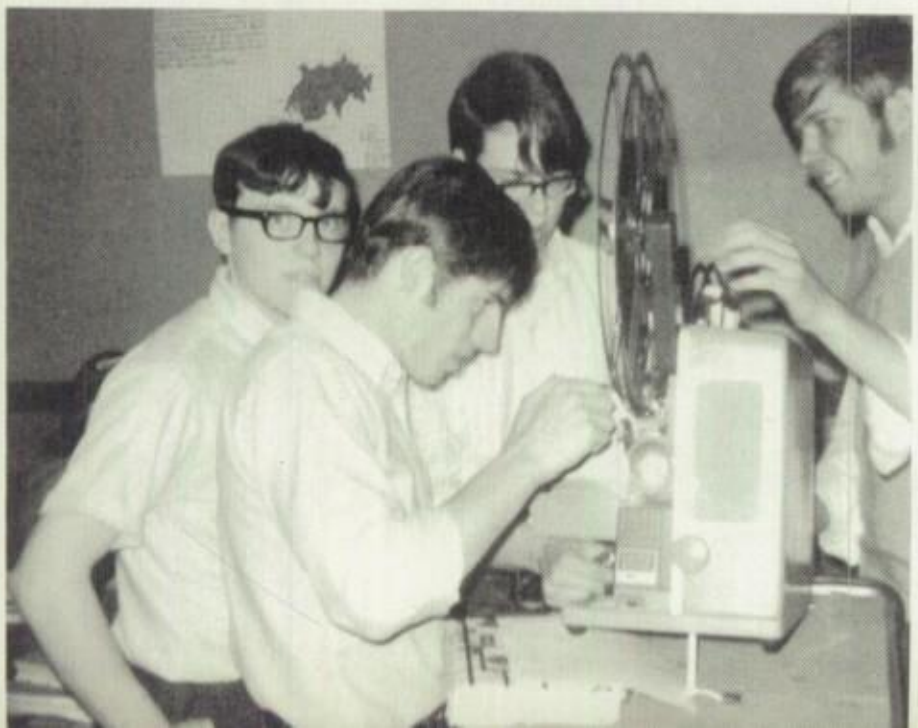
Ted Palmreuter and Edgar "Eggs" Keinath take time out to display their musical abilities in this candid shot.

STUDENTS TRY TO RULE . . .

Thomas Flemming instructor shows Harold Little an interesting URBAN WORLD article.

Edgar "Eggs" Keinath, first hour government president, leads his class in discussion.

Bill "The Fuhrer" Rogner, Gary "Teddy" Palmreuter, and Brad Grassmick stage a military coup in third hour government class.

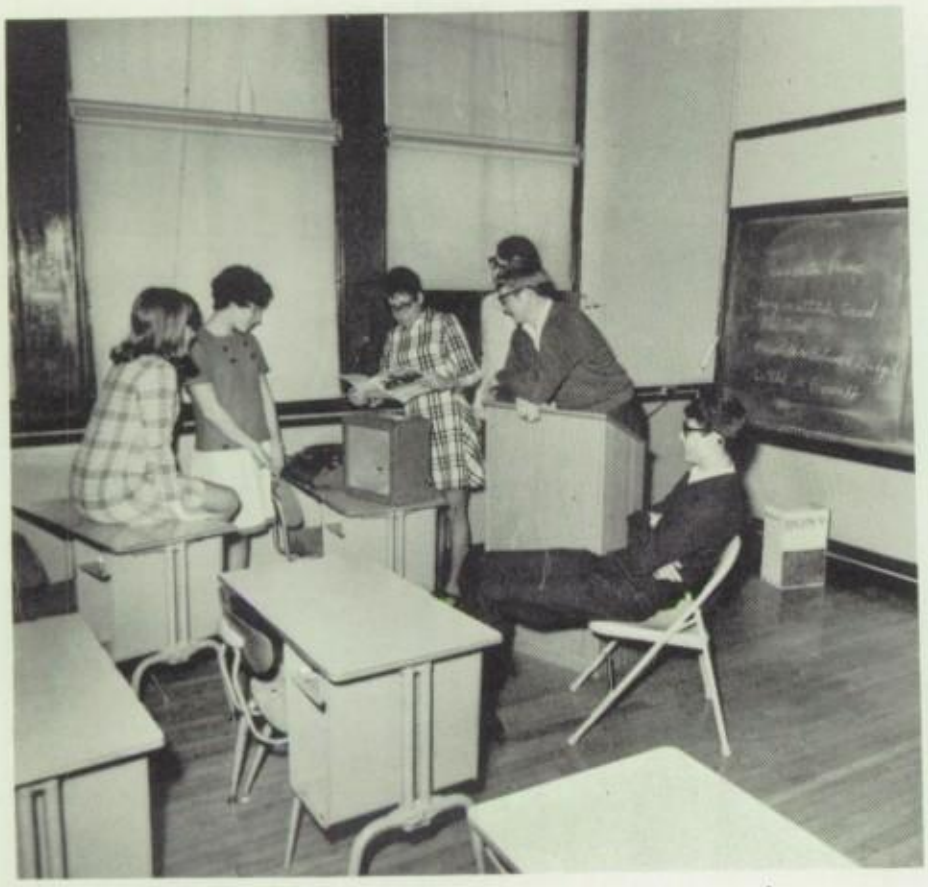


Thomas Flemming ponders over the recent overthrow of the third hour democratic government class.

This year's government classes experienced a new program in which the students conducted their own democratic government. Each class composed a constitution, and elected officers to complete a phase of government. STUDENT TOWARD PROGRESS, F.L.E.M.S., STUDENTS FOR AN EDUCATED SOCIETY, and S.O.B.D.U. were the names of the various organizations.

Fourth hour government class proved lively when Wally Daenzer, Mike Reif, Nick Franklin, and Bruce Renick stuck a pencil in the projector.

TRAVELING THROUGH TIME . . .



Marilyn Yoba, Beverly Weiss, Mrs. Nancy Barry, instructor, Kevin Koch, Fred Rodammer, and Mike Poellet enjoy listening to history records, as a class project.

Thomas Flemming's government classes visited the voting booths of Frankenmuth to observe voting habits.

As a history project, Mrs. Barry's classes were required to recreate the days of Hitler, and put the German leader on trial for crimes against humanity. Shown left, Rick Sebald portrays a lawyer for the prosecution, as he questions Cheyrl Trinklein. Rodney Franklin acted as judge, and Margaret DeYoung was the court reporter. At right, Rick seems to have made a point, and ponders it before further questioning.

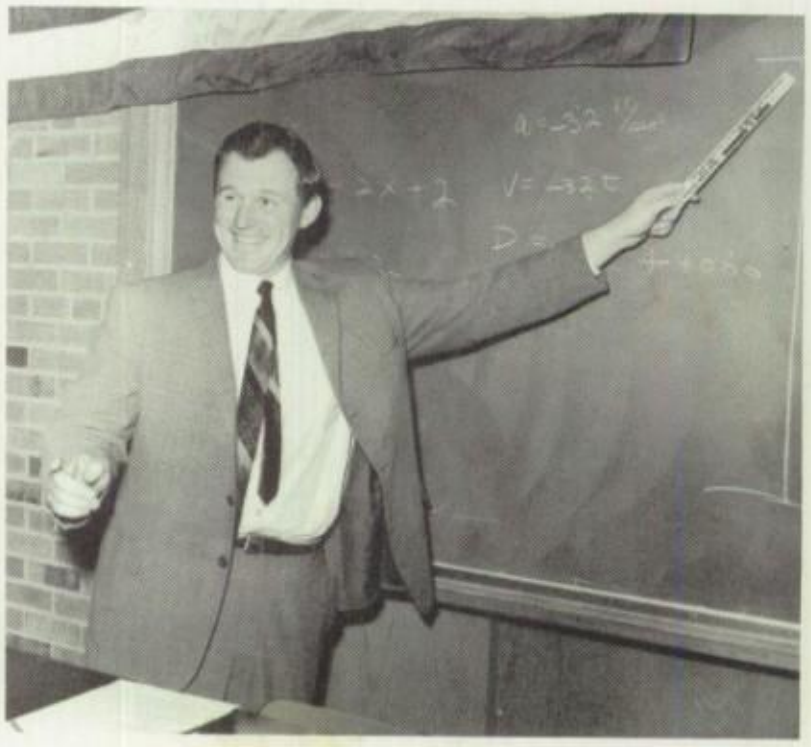
Underclassmen enjoyed a well-rounded social science field, with such courses as world history and United States history. Mr. Flemming, Mrs. Barry, and Mr. Tompkins rounded out the teaching staff in the area of underclassmen, while Mr. Flemming handled the senior government classes.

Coach Tompkins recognizes student, Harold Little during his second hour world history class.

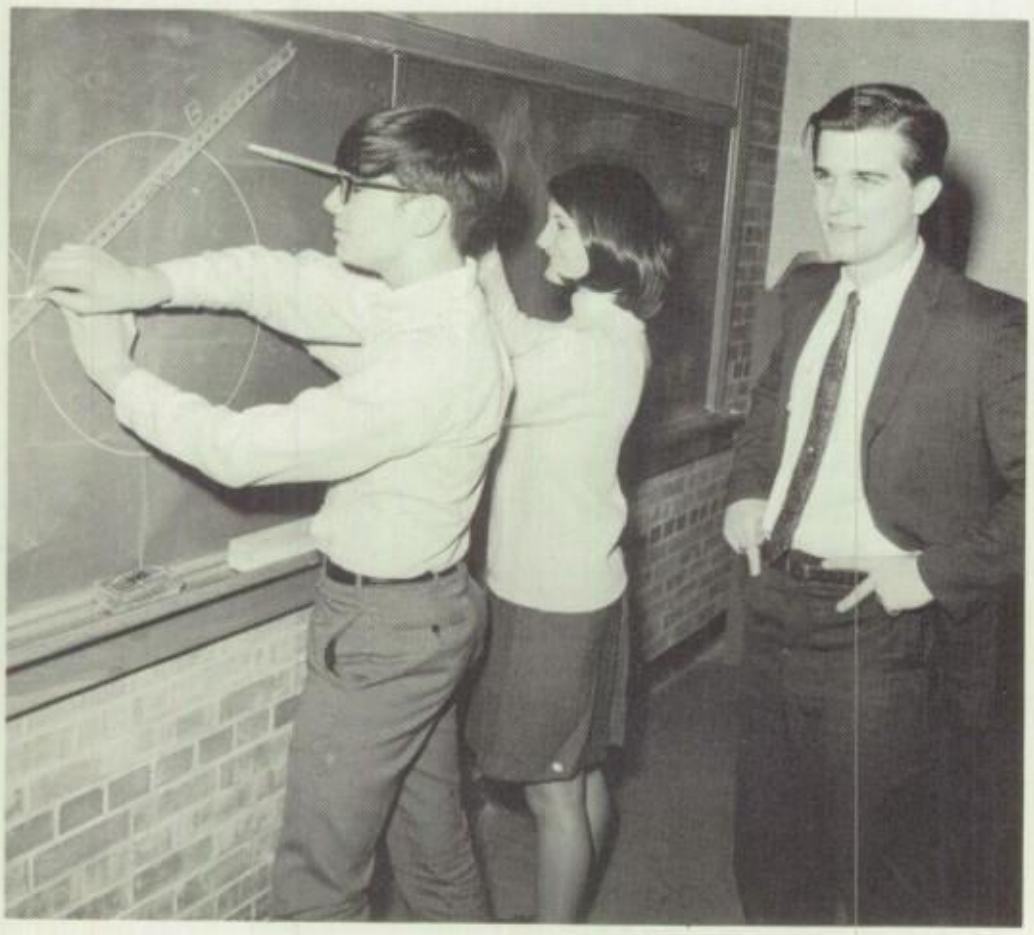
MATHEMATICS IS CHALLENGING . . .

The mathematics department at Frankenmuth High School has been developed into algebra, advanced algebra, applied mathematics, advanced mathematics, and geometry. Byron Charters, Warren Wilson, and James Weber compose the mathematics department faculty.

Warren Wilson observes his Geometry class as they take one of his challenging tests. Mr. Wilson teaches applied mathematics and Algebra II, aside from his duties, which include coaching varsity basketball and JV football.



James Weber, right, is apparently amused at one of his advanced mathematics students. Mr. Weber also teaches applied chemistry and chemistry courses, and advanced mathematics. Outside the classroom, "Herr" Weber assists as varsity football coach. Graduating from the University of Michigan, he is currently working on his Master's degree.



Byron Charters, teacher of algebra, geometry, and physics seems amused as he watches Scott Shively and Kathy Schreiner prepare a construction problem in geometry. Mr. Charters has been a mathematics teacher for three years at Frankenmuth, and also enjoys showing his basketball abilities on the faculty All-Star Team.

EXPERIMENTING IN SCIENCE . . .

James Weber, chemistry instructor observes as Mark Schiefer and Chris Ferguson conduct an interesting chemistry laboratory experiment.

James Weber, assisted by Adele Rittmueller and Nick Franklin, and Charles Lyon with biology helpers Wendy Wessborg and Steve Hill pose in the chemistry lab.

This year's science department consisted of physics, chemistry, and natural science courses, instructed by James Weber, Byron Charters, Charles Lyon, and Gary Bruns. With such a wide field of courses in the curriculum, each science student was able to meet his or her needs and requirements.

Charles Lyon takes his Biology II class outside on one of their many field trips.

Gary Bruns, science instructor, prepares some weights and measures on his scales.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS OFFERS

In beginning shop class, the above freshman boys help refinish the high school piano under the watchful eye of Thomas Bucholz, instructor.

Dave Voorheis displays his skill while operating a lathe. New equipment and materials have been added in recent years to give students such as Dave new opportunities and skills.

Assisting Mr. Bucholz in the Industrial Arts Department, is Dennis Schluckebier. Dennis filled the recently created student assistant position, by helping in the various shop classes.

STUDENTS MANY OUTLETS . . .

Dale Weiss tunes up the motor of his Ford, as part of a requirement in shop class.

Mike Piesko and Fred Rodammer display a maze they have just completed in class.

Washing his car, Mike Smith demonstrates methods for keeping his car in good condition. Many students worked on and repaired vehicles during shop period, in order to become acquainted with auto mechanics.

Warren Nabor assists Gerald Bierlein in preparing a project in drafting class.

PREPARING FOR FAMILY LIVING . . .

Miss Carol Krug, home economics instructor, prepares a lecture for her HOME AND FAMILY LIVING class. Miss Krug teaches home economics on all levels of high school grades. Home and Family living is a new course designed to draw a closer relationship between economics and the home.

One phase of first year home economics was a section on child care, as students such as Sue Gugel, shown below, learn to care and study younger children's habits.

Each year, the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award test is given, the winner being the girl who scores highest in her knowledge of the home economics field. This year the award went to Jonalyn Reindel, who is shown, below, examining a new dress fashioned in class.

BUILDING SOUND BODIES . . .

Coach Arthur Pelzer observes two brave wrestlers during his physical education class.

Physical Education instructor Sharon Stephen assists freshman Beth Penzien in the basic steps of tumbling.

The area of physical education was broadened during the 1968-69 school year, with the assistance of instructors Sharon Stephen and Arthur Pelzer.

Mrs. Stephen, during her first year at Frankenmuth High, activated many new programs for the girls department. Swimming, basketball, volleyball, and baseball teams were created to help broaden the field of girl's athletics.

Arthur Pelzer concentrated to a great extent on the physical fitness program which proved to be most successful, as the percentage of boys receiving awards for fitness was the highest on record.

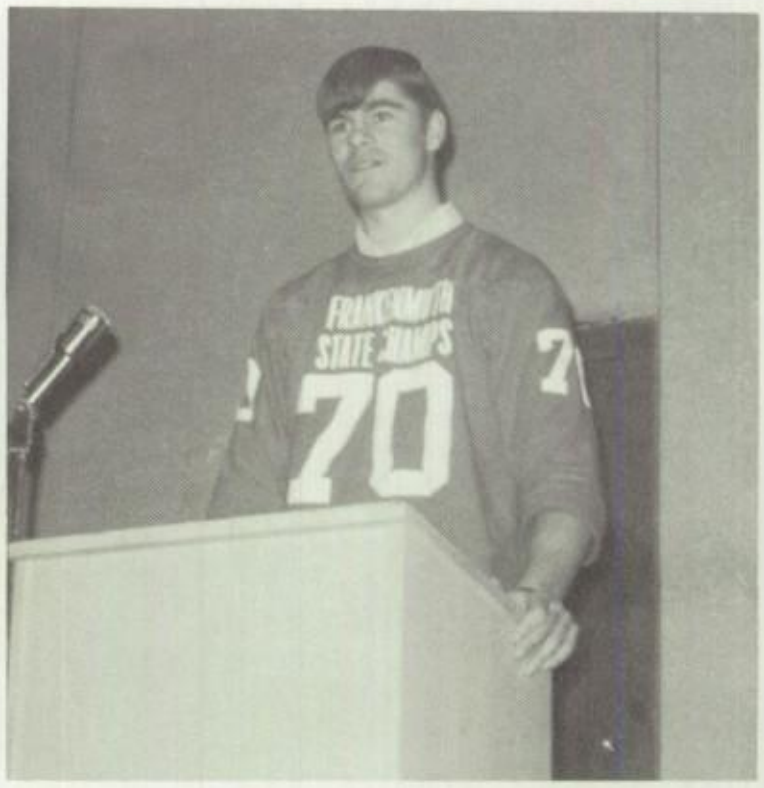
SPEECH STUDENTS

What would happen IF MEN PLAYED CARDS THE WAY WOMEN DO? Mel Braeutigam, Bob Poellet and Bob Warnick show what men think in a satirical comedy. Also featured was Tom Yoba (not shown).

Under the enthusiastic direction of Gerald Hennessy this year's speech department has achieved the peak of success. Included in its activities were five one-act plays, debate, forensics, job interviews, discussion periods and the final exams were recorded on video tape.

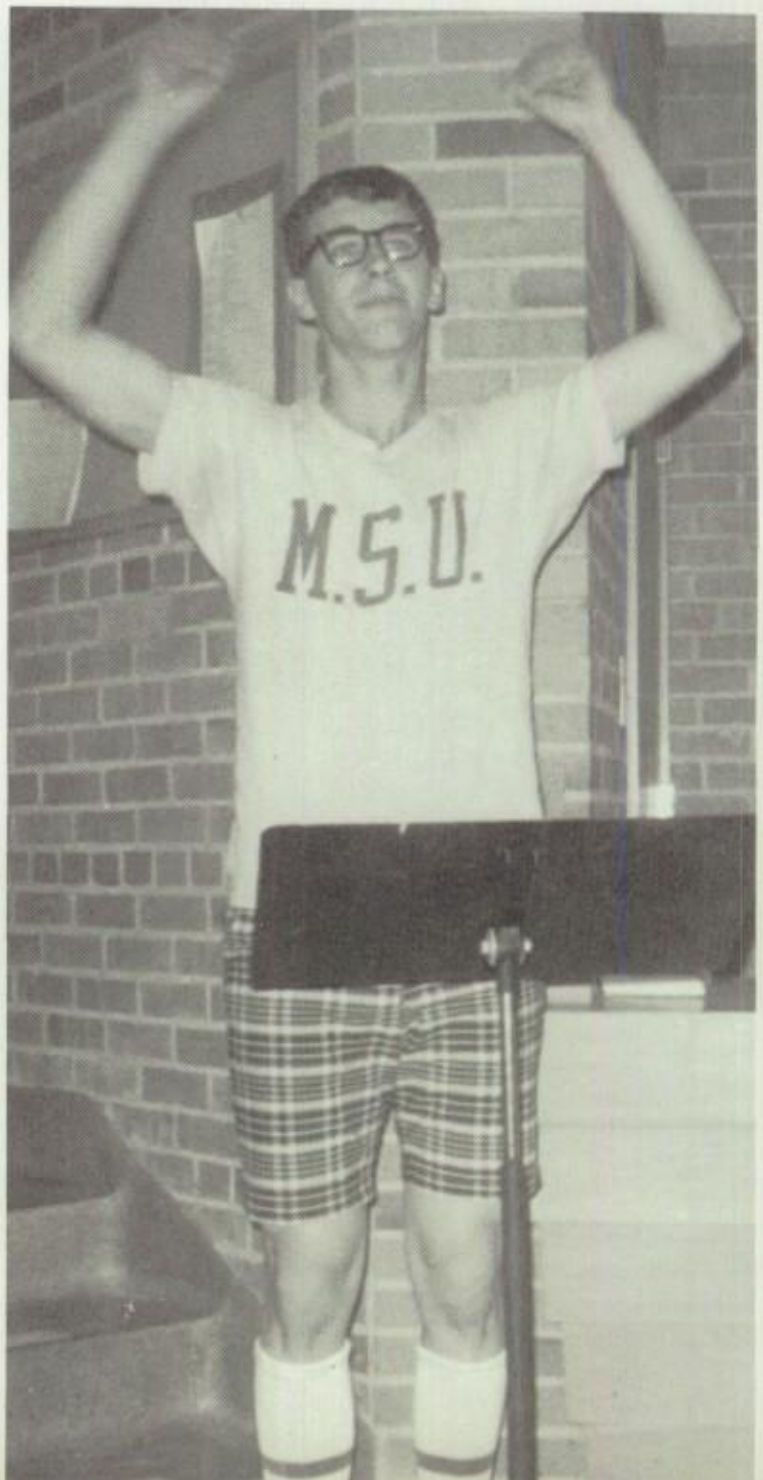
Much time and effort went into the production of three one-act plays—THE HERO, CURSE YOU, JACK DALTON, and THE LAVENDAR KITE—presented by the senior class in May. Speech II students performed THE SANDBOX twelve times one day for the students and IF MEN PLAYED CARDS THE WAY WOMEN DO was presented twice to the assembled student body.

Competing in the regional forensic tournament were Diane Scharrer, Debbie Geyer, Cheryle Trinklein and Chris Boesenecker with their multiple reading, TO BURN A WITCH.



Loren Rustem competed in the state finals with his interpretation of Mark Twain's, THE OLD RAM.

Mel Braeutigam as the angel of death in THE SANDBOX, a short play presented by the Speech II class.



DO THEIR THING!!!

THE SANDBOX, by Edward Albee, was the selected play that the Speech II class presented to the student body. Mr. Albee's play is written in the theatre-of-the-absurd style, which is void of form and explanation, and relies purely on symbolism. For this reason alone, the Speech II class, chose to perform and present THE SANDBOX.

At top, clockwise: Eunice Bickel, as Mommy, and Robert Warnick, Daddy, contemplate a day at the beach. Daddy and Grandma played by Laurie Bock, find they have nothing in common. At right, Mel Braeutigam, delivers the 'kiss of death' to Grandma, at the conclusion of the play. Below, l. to r.: Laurie Block, Grandma, Lynn Crary, the musician, John Katona, student director, and Robert Warnick, Daddy, round out the cast of players.

STUDENTS SHOW CREATIVITY . . .

Mrs. Margret Willis instructs her art students in the art of decoupage. Mrs. Willis teaches two art, two English, and one journalism class.

Gloria Uebler, Judy Miller, Sheila Gilbert, Chris Weber, and Gail Riethmeier assist Mrs. Willis and Miss Krug in art and home economics respectively.

Tom List and John Beyerlein proudly display the chest they are in the process of refinishing.

Mrs. Willis discusses a project with one of her students.

LANGUAGES CAN BE FUN . . .

German instructor Joyce Kelson poses with two of her eager German II students, Ted Palmreuter and Susie Zehnder, as they tape a dialogue.

Sally Rogers, French teacher, is deep in thought as first year student, Forrest Dankert, gives a clue during a game of charades.

Miss Rogers seems pleased as Forrest calls on a knowing student who has guessed the answer.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT KEEPS

Members of the Frankenmuth High School Marching and Concert Band are: Randy Moeller, Pam Van Fleet, Jeff Love, Paul Nuechterlein, Wendy Wessborg, Jim Walker, Gene Rittmueller, David Lawrence, Rod Franklin, Loren Rustem, Ron Haubenstricker, Sue Gugel, Sue Zeilinger, Karen Bierlein, Bill Loveless, Karen Wilder, John Katona, Jennifer Reindel, Sandy Rogner, Mel Keinath, Paul Wenzloff, Dennis Kreil, Dave Auernhamer, Mark Schiefer, Dave Weber, Dave Morley, Marc Haubenstricker, Edgar Keinath, Keith Boesenecker, Warren Schamndt, Jim Reindel, John Deterding, Dan Geyer, Mark Eischer, Larry Hart, Jay Rivett, Kris Kern, Ron Maurer, Marcia Van Fleet, Bev Weiss, Marilyn Trinklein, Denise Malott, Sue Mills, Lauren Finger, Kurt Mayes, Joann Baker, Eloise Walz, Jim Frahm, Mark Olgaard, Wayne Wilder, Floyd Schmitzer, Jim Nuechterlein, Tom Duclos, Andrea Zoellner, Doris Finger, Nancy Birkenmeier, Debbie Botimer, Jonalyn Reindel, Brenda Watters, Jean Weiss, Beth Penzein, Marcia Reinert, Gayle Hammond, and Peggy Pagels. Instructor is James Van Develde.

The Frankenmuth Marching Band kicked off the school season by entertaining the fans at the half time ceremonies during the home games of the 1968 football season. This year, the band was blessed with good marching weather and welcoming crowds to make the football season successful.

During the concert season, Frankenmuth carried on the winning tradition by placing in the District Band Festival, with a I Division rating, the first such high rating ever achieved by the band.

In addition, the band also presented a Christmas and Spring concert, along with playing selections at the newly created CARNIVAL OF SOUND. The schedule ran tight for the group this year, as many pressing engagements found their way on the agenda. Mr. Van Develde led the band through their paces, however, to achieve a highly successful, and rewarding year.

IN TUNE WITH TODAY . . .

Mrs. Rose List accompanies her vocal music class through its second concert season, this year with combines. Aside from the Christmas concert and spring concert, the vocal music class studied the various composers, styles, and moods of music.

DEBATERS ARE SUCCESSFUL . . .

Bob Reindel, Debbie Walz, Wendy Wessborg and Chris Ferguson display their debate trophy that the team captured in the Thumb B League.

The 1969 debate season ended on a successful note, as the varsity squad captured third place in a hotly contested Thumb B League, following closely Caro and Millington. Debbie Walz received the first place speaker trophy, and Wendy Wessborg captured second place honors in the Thumb B League.

After the regular debated season closed, Frankenmuth proved victorious in the district elimination debates, taking all but one contest.

Debbie Walz received the John S. Knight Scholarship for receiving the highest number of speaker points during the district debates. Debbie went on to Detroit to compete for the top prize and placed among the best debaters.

Frankenmuth debaters then went on to Regional elimination but lost in the final round to Detroit Country Day, who went on to place second in the state.

The 68-69 debate season gave the FHS debaters another chance to show off their fine speaking abilities. All of the debaters were active due to the fact that there were three leagues. The debaters took first place honors in the State "A" League which included schools from Saginaw, Montrose, Goodrich, Flint, and Clio.

State "A" League Debaters—Standing l. to r.: D. Hoerauf, C. Nuechterlein, J. Katona, M. Poellet, S. Hill. Seated: N. Adams, S. Rogner, B. Katona.

J. V. Thumb B—Standing: Greg Loesel, H. Haubenstricker, J. Reindel, D. Miller, M. Eischer, S. Dalton, D. Geyer. Seated: D. Bernreuter, C. Hoebbel, K. Keinath, S. Lotter, S. Engel.

J. V. Thumb B Debaters: B. Bierlein, S. Meyer, D. Mallot, A. Friend, J. Baker, J. Beyerlein, J. Weiss, R. Zehnder, C. Loesel, D. Nefe.

FORENSICS PRODUCES WINNERS . . .

Local winners—l. to r.—J. Frahm, G. Hennessy, coach, W. Wessborg, L. Rustem, M. Braeutigam, P. Herzog, M. Poellet, P. VanFleet, C. Rustem, B. Heindl, D. Geyer, C. Ferguson, J. Krueger, C. Trinklein, and D. Scharrer.

District winners—l. to r.—P. VanFleet, D. Scharrer, P. Herzog, J. Frahm, L. Rustem, M. Braeutigam, P. Wenzloff, C. Ferguson, B. Gugel, D. Geyer, W. Wessborg, and C. Trinklein.

Chris Ferguson displays the plaque containing the list of former oratorical winners. Chris placed first in this year's contest with Lynn Trinklein in second place. Chris was also the guest speaker at Memorial Day ceremonies.

EAGLES FLY TO VISIT

The Youth for Understanding organization, has its headquarters in Ann Arbor, Michigan, and deals with bettering relationships between the United States and foreign countries.

The summer of 1969 found nine Frankenmuth High School students on their way to various countries. Four students ventured to Germany, while five travelers went to Sweden, Finland, and Denmark.

Below l. to r.: John Katona, Jill Thompson, Debbie Walz, and Kay Roedel all traveled to Germany, and visited each other while on vacation.

FOREIGN COUNTRIES . . .

Jonalyn Reindel dons her Danish majorette outfit. Jonalyn marched in a Danish band during the summer.

Wendy Wessborg stayed in Sweden but visited Norway, here she poses with her Swedish family in the Norweigan woods.

Nine students from F.H.S. traveled abroad last summer, four to Germany, and five to Scandinavia. Memories and events were recorded by pictures of their times enjoyed and treasured.

The Finnish mountains offer a beautiful view for Nancy Adams, who spent her summer in Finland.

Gail Riethmeier stayed in Denmark but traveled to Austria as well.

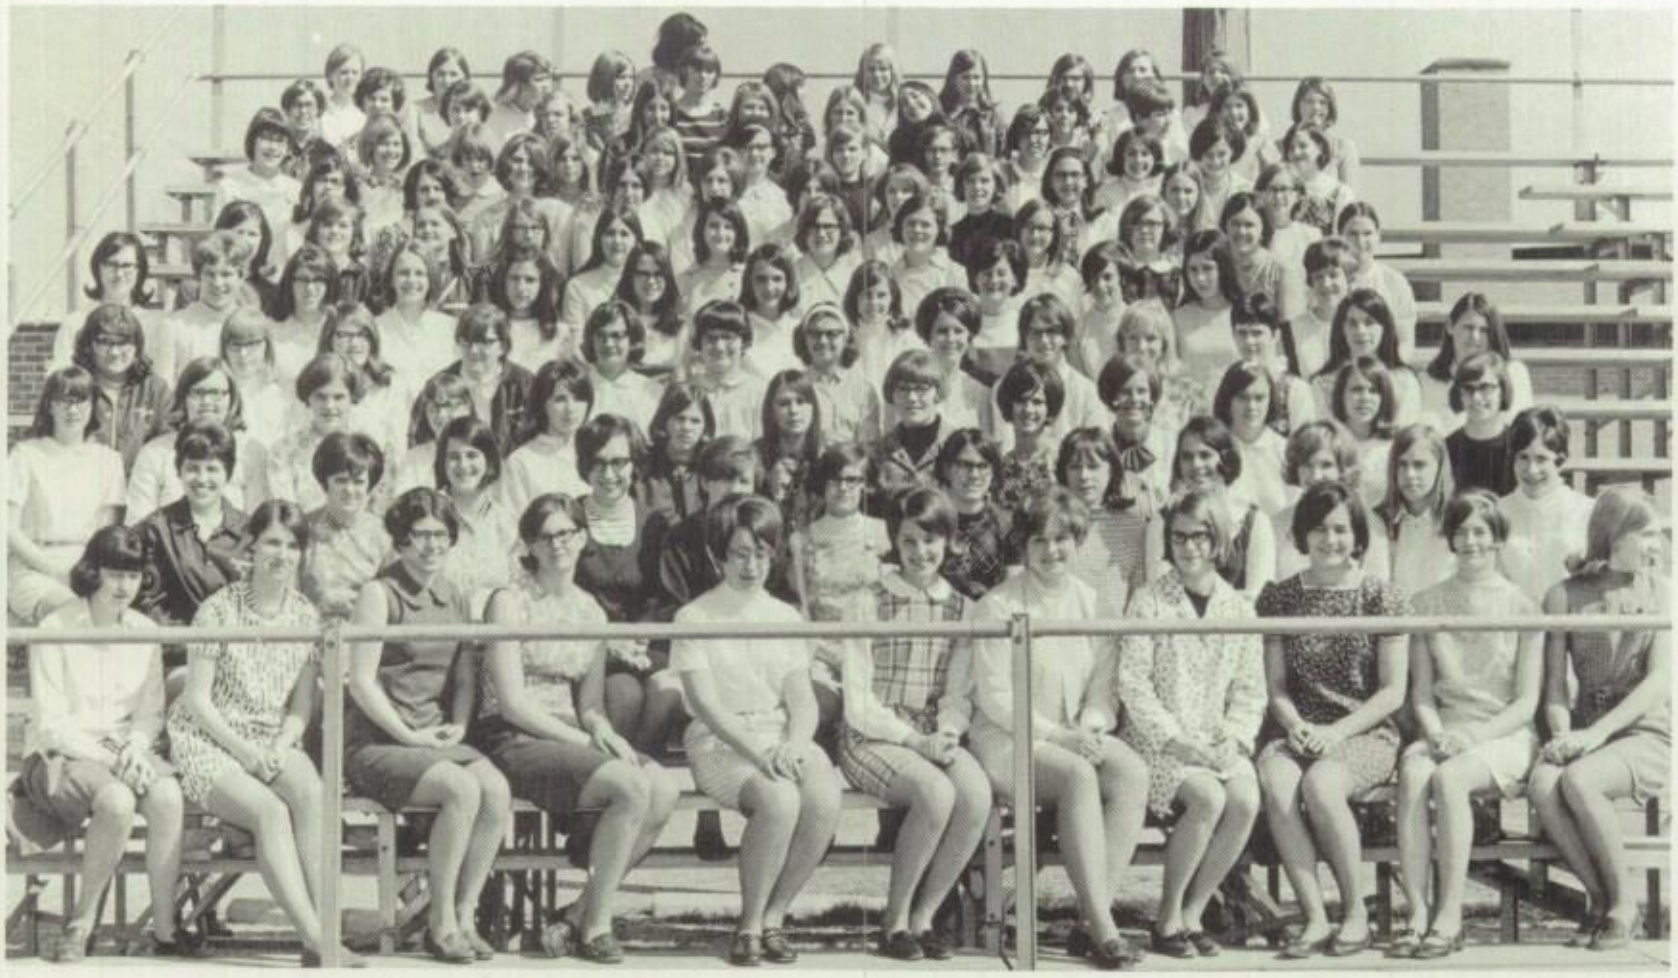
GIRLS SPORTS REVIVED . . .



At top is approximately all of the one hundred plus G.A.A. members who formed the largest girls' organization in the history of Frankenmuth High School. The girls broke down into various athletic teams such as the volleyball team (center) and the basketball team (bottom). Mrs. Sharon Stephans was chief advisor for all the girls' endeavors.

HONORS ARE GIVEN . . .

A new honor, the Karl Kasten award, created this year, was presented to Gary Keinath by Thomas Flemming, government instructor. Gary was granted the award for his interest and abilities in the field of social studies, for which the Karl Kasten Award was created.

Rick List proudly presents Dave Trinklein with the highest honor a senior athlete can attain, the Tom Block Award, for his achievements in the field of sports.

Annually, Frankenmuth High School conducts an AWARDS ASSEMBLY, in which those students who have achieved an honor or accomplishment are recognized. Awards given for skills in classroom activity include; typing, shorthand, physical education, various science classes, and music. Honors for achievement through competition went to debaters, forensic team members, yearbook, basketball, football, track, golf, and baseball team members.

Traditional honors such as the Tom Block Award was presented to Dave Trinklein, while the American Legion Citizenship Award also went to Dave Trinklein and to Jonalyn Reindel. Chris Ferguson was honored as being the most outstanding speech student, and Gary Keinath received the first Karl Kasten Award for social studies.

Mrs. Margret Willis, yearbook advisor, beams after presenting the yearbook editor award to Wendy Wessborg.

Dave Trinklein, co-captain and MVP of the 1968 Class C. State Football Champion, Frankenmuth Eagles, receives an award in recognition of the team's efforts.

EAGLES DISPLAY TALENT . . .

Loren "Grandpa" Rustem assists first place winner Lynne "Grandma" Wieneke by turning on the microphone.

Third place winner, Phil Marcy held the audience's attention with his folk ballads.

KRAZY KARNIVAL—BIG SUCCESS . . .

Juniors Tom Weber, Dale Weiss, Kent Rummel, and Chip Weiss assemble the traditional Krazy Karnival sign in front of the school, in preparation for the coming event.

Drawing the winning tickets was the official duty of Krazy Karnival King Bill Travis and Queen Carleen Bickel.

Each year, the junior class at Frankenmuth High, sponsor what is known as the KRAZY KARNIVAL. The purpose is to raise the money which will be needed and used by the juniors to finance the junior-senior Prom in the spring. Each class nominates a candidate for the position of Krazy Karnival King and Queen, with the winners being elected by votes which cost a penny apiece. The winning couple then reign over the festivities and draw the winning tickets for prizes at the time of the long-awaited drawing which closes the evening. Everything from pie-throwing, winning a cake or prize, having a lucky ticket number, or campaigning for a favorite candidate, goes into making the Krazy Karnival a fun and festive activity for young and old alike.

Vengeful Marilyn Yoba is "socking it to" prim Kathy Krafft.

King and queen candidates were, Sheila Gilbert, Bob Reindel, Carleen Bickel, Dale Weiss, Sue Mills, Carl Rau, Debbie Bender, and Bill Travis.

EYRIE STAFF WORKS HARD . . .

At left, the executive staff Wendy, Gary, Kathy Herzog and Mary Abraham take time out. Gary Scharrer, co-editor, and Wendy Wessborg, editor, discuss a possible layout for the basketball section.

Christopher A. Nuechterlein, Student Council President.

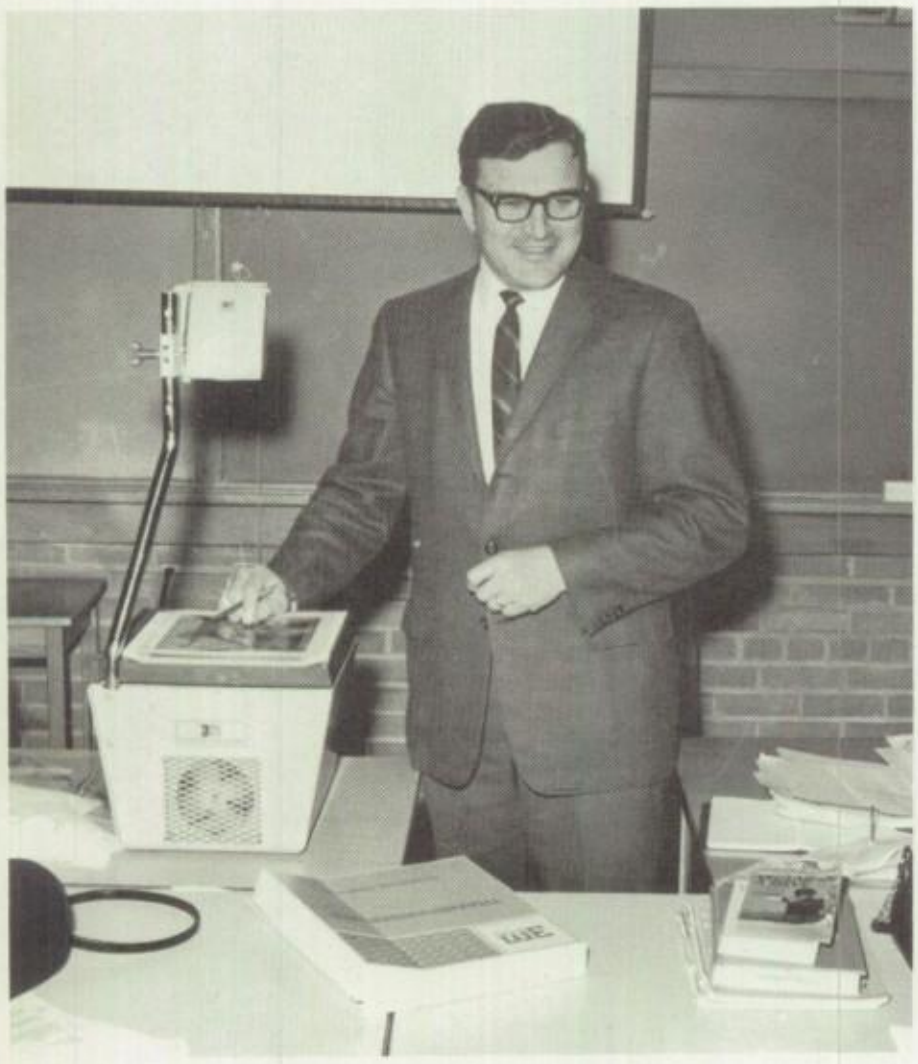
Charles Bartel, advisor, observes the student council in action, as John Beyerlein, Kim Koehler, Cindy Wendt, and Brenda Goldammer listen intently.

Chris Nuechterlein holds the gavel in position to keep the Student Council in order, as Loren Rustem looks on amusingly.

LEARNING BUSINESS SKILLS . . .

Beginning typists Debbie Bender and Barb Bierlein work carefully on their manuscripts. A number of students achieved typing awards at the annual honor assembly.

Typing instructor, Marco Marcet practices his typing skills to keep up with his students. Mr. Marcet is also in charge of keeping the many typewriters in repair.



Louie Weiss, director of co-operative training, and business courses instructor, widened his office practice course this year. In addition, data processing was offered to broaden student knowledge.

Kay Roedel points out an important fact to Jean Reinbold on the data processing chart. Mr. Weiss assists Kay by consulting his charts.

BILLIARDS BECOMES POPULAR . . .

Billiard advisor, Thomas Flemming practices his favorite pastime.

Billiards has become a fairly popular extracurricular activity, which has attracted many students. Thomas Flemming, instructor, has been an avid billiard fan for many years, and enjoys both playing and instructing his billiard players.

Jerry Marcet lines up the perfect shot by perching himself on the side of the pool table.

Lefty Mary Roedel, sole female billiard member, aims carefully for her next shot.

HONOR SOCIETY IS ACTIVE . . .

"Leadership, Scholarship, Character, and Service," are the requirements for entrance into the National Honor Society. Students receiving this high honor must retain at least a 3.0 average to remain in the organization. Annually, the Frankenmuth High School faculty selects students they deem worthy of being members of the National Honor Society.

At left, National Honor Society officers Debbie Walz, secretary, Gary Palmreuter, vice-president, and Loren Rustem, president, take time out from their duties.

Senior Members: D. Walz, K. Roedel, A. Rittmueller, N. Adams, J. Reindel, K. Herzog, D. Trinklein, L. Rustem, J. Thompson, L. Warnick, M. Reif, E. Witt, G. Palmreuter, L. Block, S. Schaefer, D. Knoll, J. Beyerlein, W. Wessborg.

OCEANS OF LOVE . . .

OCEANS OF LOVE, was the theme of the 1969 Frankenmuth High School Prom, held May 24, at Zehnder's Hotel, Frankenmuth. The annual event, sponsored by the junior class, and attended by the junior and senior class members and their dates, was a colorful event. Decorations were a major factor in setting the mood, and colored lights and music added the finishing touches.

Following a meal of shrimp, chicken, and beef, served buffet style, the party swung in to style to the music of the MIDWEST EXCURSION. Shown above, left, prom-goers enjoy lively rock tunes, while at right, the pace slowed down considerably to a slower mood.

SENIORS PRESENT THREE

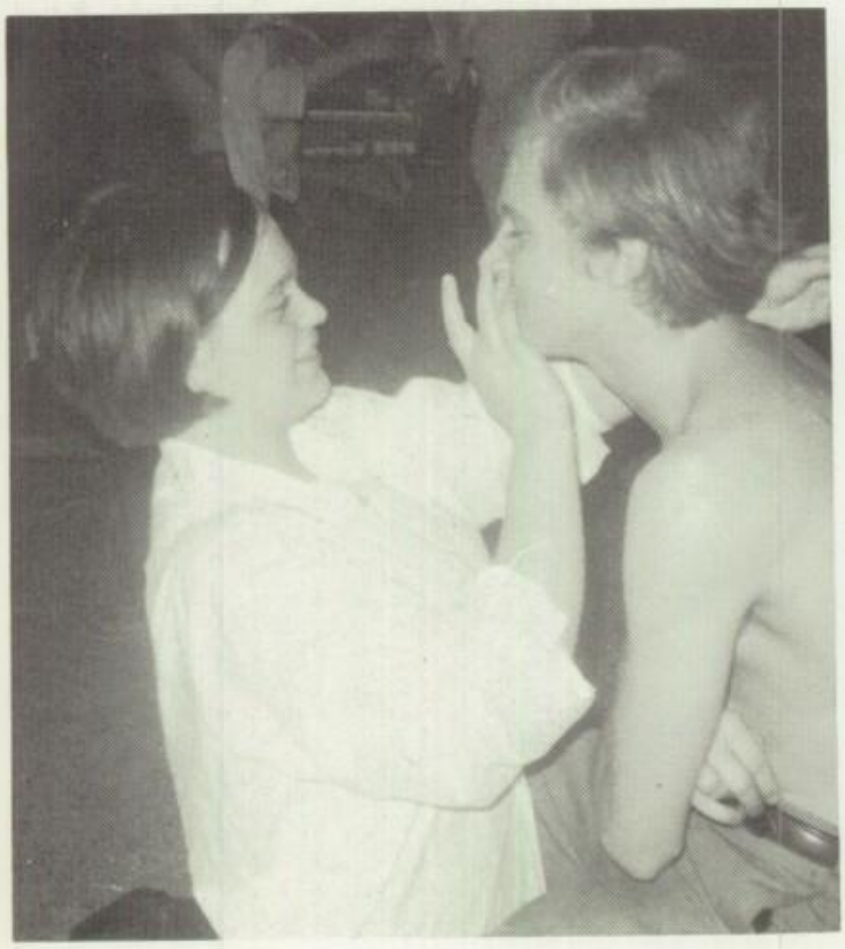
"My dear Mother Dalton," drools Egbert Van Horn, as brave Jack Dalton stands by attentively.

CURSE YOU, JACK DALTON!

Jack Dalton . . . . . Loren Rustem
Mrs. Donna Dalton . . . . . Wendy Wessborg
Anna Alvarado . . . . . Sandy Travis
Egbert Van Horn . . . . . Kerry Goodwin
Bertha Blair . . . . . Doris Stellwag
Richard Blair . . . . . Tom Yoba
Eloise Dalton . . . . . Debbie Walz

Director Gerald Hennessy spends time working with lighting manager Paul Wenzloff.

"Hold still, Kerry!" Marcia Van Fleet, assistant make-up supervisor, tries to smooth Kerry's complexion.



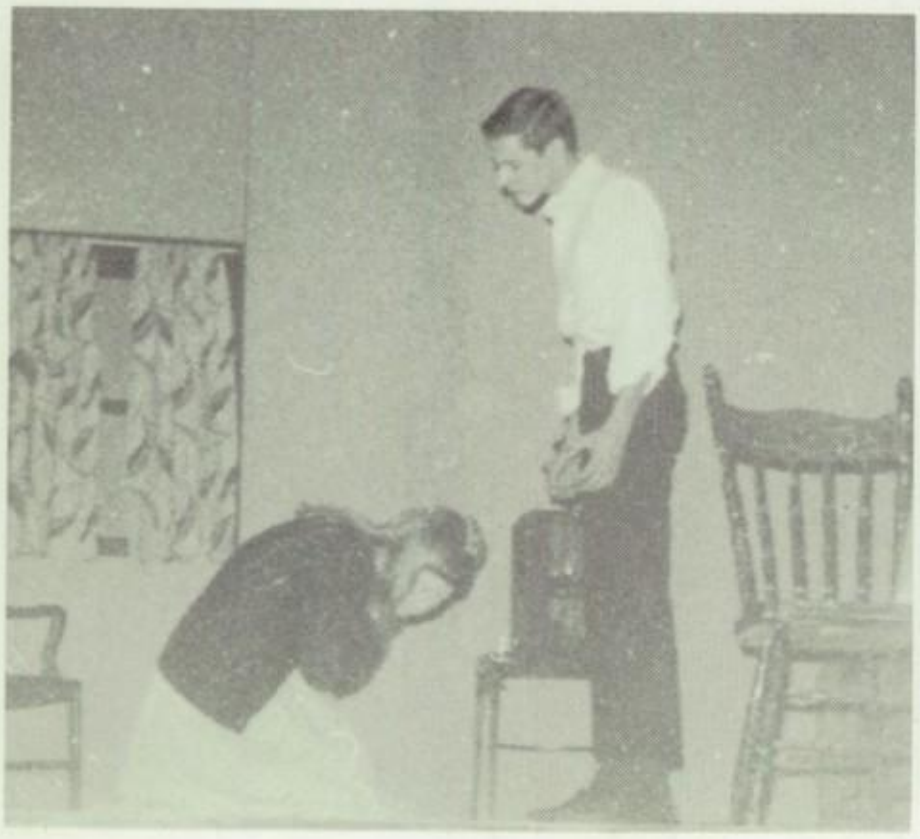
Eugene "Liberace" Witt, with nimble fingers, accompanied the melodrama, CURSE YOU, JACK DALTON.

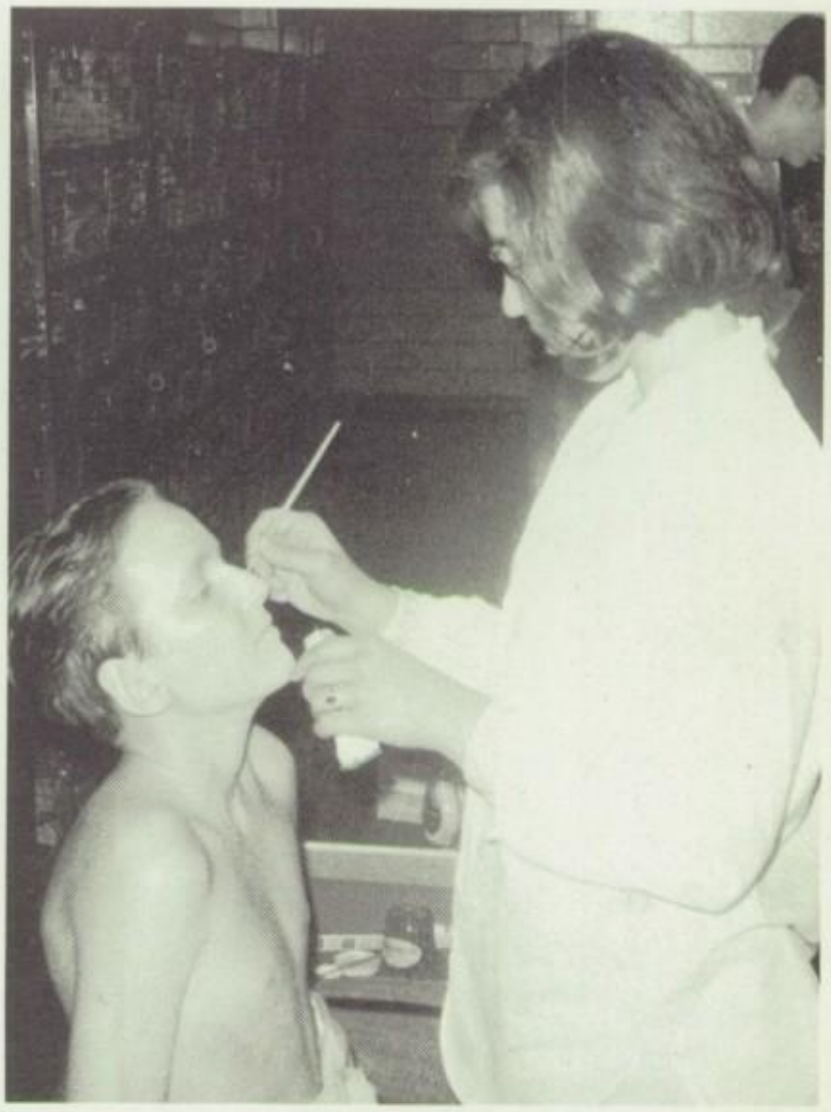
ONE-ACT PLAYS . . .

Chris Nuechterlein was the evening's co-host and moderator, along with Chris Ferguson. The boys introduced all three one-act plays.

This year's senior class presented three one act plays which included all types of entertainment, from the very serious to the lighthearted comedy of the melodrama. The three presentations were THE LAVENDER KITE, THE HERO and CURSE YOU, JACK DALTON! Lee Warnick and Gail Riethmeier starred in the pantomime THE HERO, which depicted the last man and woman on earth on a desert.

Steve Hill, Lynne Wieneke, and Doug "Duck" Kueffner made up the cast of the other one act drama THE LAVENDER KITE, which dealt with a symbolic family story.





Doug Kueffner tries to hold still while make-up artist, Eunice Bickel paints his nose.

Richard Blair (Tom Yoba) and Bertha Blair (Doris Stellwag) rehearse their lives in the early weeks of play practice.

Judging by the faces of these three seniors, Loren Rustem, Dave Trinklein, and Dave Dietzel, it's quite obvious that they aren't doing their Physics.

"Munchy" and "Wally" liven up the drab noon hours with their antics. These two are always up to something!

SENIORS PROVE OUTSTANDING . . .

Seniors graduating with honors, (average of at least 3.5) are Jonalyn Reindel, Adele Rittmueller, Kay Roedel, Laurie Block, Nancy Adams, Debbie Walz, Wendy Wessborg, Jim Frahm, Steve Hill and John Beyerlein.

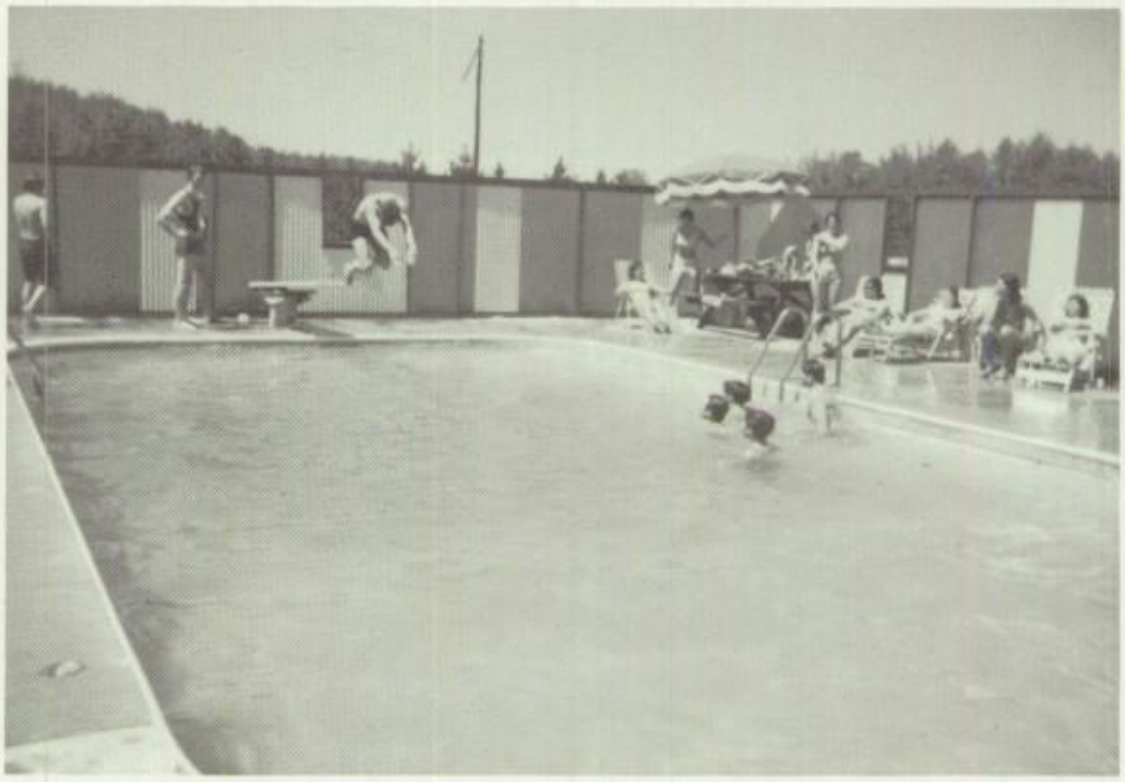
Twelve Seniors from Frankenmuth High School were chosen by their teachers to be among Merit's WHO'S WHO IN AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOLS, which is a publication of the top seniors in the United States. Chris Ferguson, Nancy Adams, Jonalyn Reindel, Dave Trinklein, Wendy Wessborg, Kay Roedel, Adele Rittmueller, Debbie Walz, and Loren Rustem were selected. Also picked but missing from picture is Chris Nuechterlein.

The Class of '69 selected an all-boy panel to represent them as their class officers. Gary "Teddy" Palmreuter, vice-president, Lee Warnick, treasurer, Gary "Pausa" Scharrer, secretary, Chris Ferguson, PTSA representative, and Bob "Ozzie" Reindel, president.

SENIORS VENTURE NORTH . . .

The 1969 senior class ventured to the northern woods of Cadillac, Michigan to the Lost Pines Lodge for the class trip. After a three hour bus trip, the whole class invaded the grounds. Many chose to go horseback riding on horses that didn't always stay on the trails while others preferred to play softball. At left, Debbie Walz and Chris Nuechterlein engage Wendy Wessborg and Mark Schiefer in one of many chicken fights.

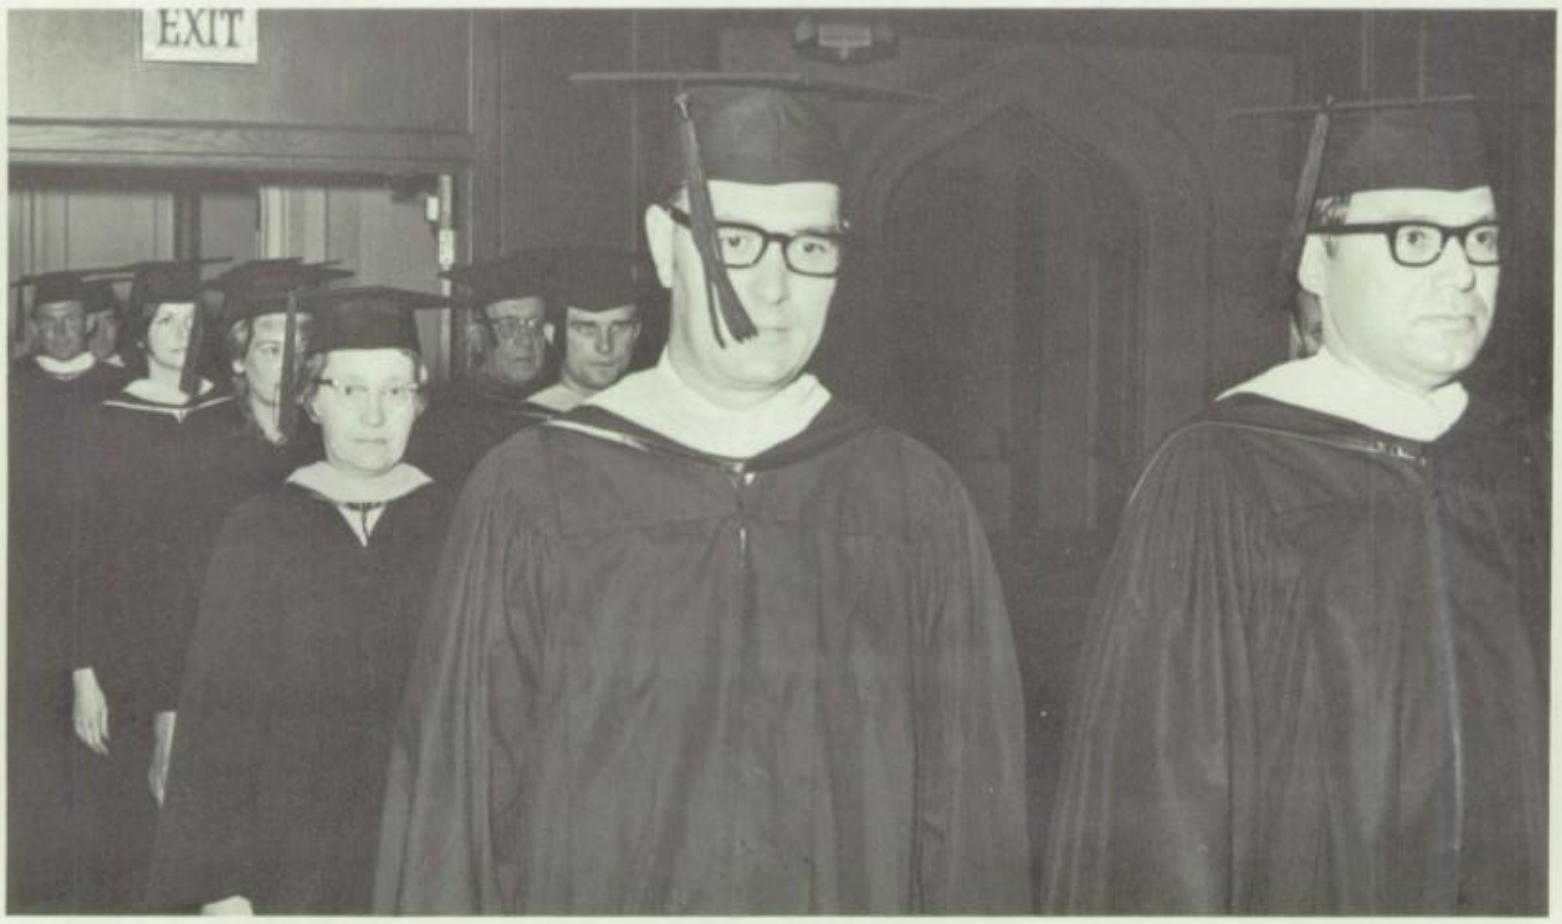
A select group of thirty hearty souls (not shown) ventured to the swift waters of the Manistee River to test their canoeing skills. Pioneered by Mr. and Mrs. James Weber and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Bruns, the seniors braved fallen trees, rocks, and sand bars for two hours of enjoyment and exercise. Avid canoists engaged in naval combat as canoes capsized, submerged, and sank. After the long trip, the weary water rats returned, dampened in body, but not in spirit.



Above, skilled diver, Gary Scharrer, executes one of his poised specialties. Many chose to soak up the sun at poolside, and enjoyed the near 80 weather. After a full and busy day of swimming, riding, canoeing, and fun, the weary seniors sat down to relax and eat supper before the long trip home. At left, Debbie Walz reflects thoughtfully the day as a whole, as Lauren Finger watches in disbelief.

FINAL STEPS BEGIN . . .

One hundred and thirteen seniors began final moments of their Frankenmuth High School career, June 1, 1969, as students, faculty, and friends, congregated in St. Lorenz Lutheran Church to partake in the traditional Baccalaureate ceremony. Below, Marvin Hauck, principal, and Jerold McEwen, superintendent of the Frankenmuth School District lead the faculty as they follow the class, colorfully gowned in robes indicating universities and colleges attended.



"TO STRIVE, TO SEEK, TO FIND,

Organist Erich von Behren played the processional hymn, as the graduates of 1969 took their places for the commencement exercises, June 5. Frankenmuth High School graduated 113 students, many of whom received scholarships totaling almost thirteen thousand dollars. Following the processional, salutatory and valedictory addresses were heard, scholarships presented, and diplomas given to climax the graduation ceremonies.

Salutatorian Deborah Walz, delivers her address, INDIVIDUALITY, to the graduating class. Debbie plans to attend Central Michigan University to pursue a career in education.

Nancy Adams, valedictorian of the 1969 class, offers her opening remarks, REAPING THE BENEFITS OF AN EDUCATION. Nancy will attend the Flint branch of the University of Michigan.

AND NOT TO YIELD"

Jerold McEwen, superintendent of the Frankenmuth School District, offers his opening remarks.

Frankenmuth Mayor, Elmer P. Simon, was guest speaker at the graduation exercises for the class of 1969.

Christopher Ferguson, receives the Weichmann scholarship from Principal Marvin Hauck.

Wendela Wessborg, graduating with honors, receives her diploma from Walter Frahm, president of the Frankenmuth School Board.

Christopher A. Nuechterlein receives an honorary scholarship from Valparaiso University.

Lynne Wieneke, featured vocalist, sings the class song, I'VE GOTTA BE ME.

Adele Rittmueller, graduating with honors, receives a regents scholarship from the University of Michigan.

Chris Ferguson spends his time in the guidance office, and becomes a familiar sight.

Mel Braeutigam does the thing he knows best: sleeping in government.

Juniors Mike Piesko and Chuck Rustem clown around this year for the photographer, but next year, Chuck will assume the role of president of the STUDENT COUNCIL, and Mike will preside as vice-president. Except for a few write-ins, their election was undisputed.

CLASS OFFICERS PRESIDE . . .

Karen Rittmueller—treasurer, Karl Muehlfeld—vice-president, David Zehnder—president, Sherry Speer—secretary, and Connie Thompson—PTA representative assumed positions as sophomore class officers.

Traditionally, the junior class must promote the KRAZY KARNIVAL, as their main money-making project to help pay for expenses during their busy year. This year's junior class was no exception, and presented one of the finest Karnivals in the school history. The money collected from this project is used to help present the annual Junior-Senior prom held each spring. Aside from the Karnival, the junior class also sponsored dances and a bake sale to help contribute to their treasury.

The sophomore class sponsored three dances this year, which was more than any other class, to help aid their treasury. Building up funds for the big year ahead, was the main objective, so that when the all-important junior year arrives, they will be ready to meet the expenses that may arise. The class of '71 boasts many achievements in the field of sports, activities, and academics, as they contributed a great deal to the many school functions.

As beginning students in high school, the freshman class began their year by becoming adjusted to school life. Debate, forensics, and every field of sports were just some of the areas in which the freshman class participated.

The freshman class learned through experience, the ways and traditions of school life, and will be ready in their remaining years to continue the ideals and pride of Frankenmuth High School.

Kim Koehler, president of the junior class, sits surrounded by Mary Lehner—PTA representative, Ralph Munger—vice-president, and Jo Krueger—treasurer. Missing is Lynn Trinklein, secretary.

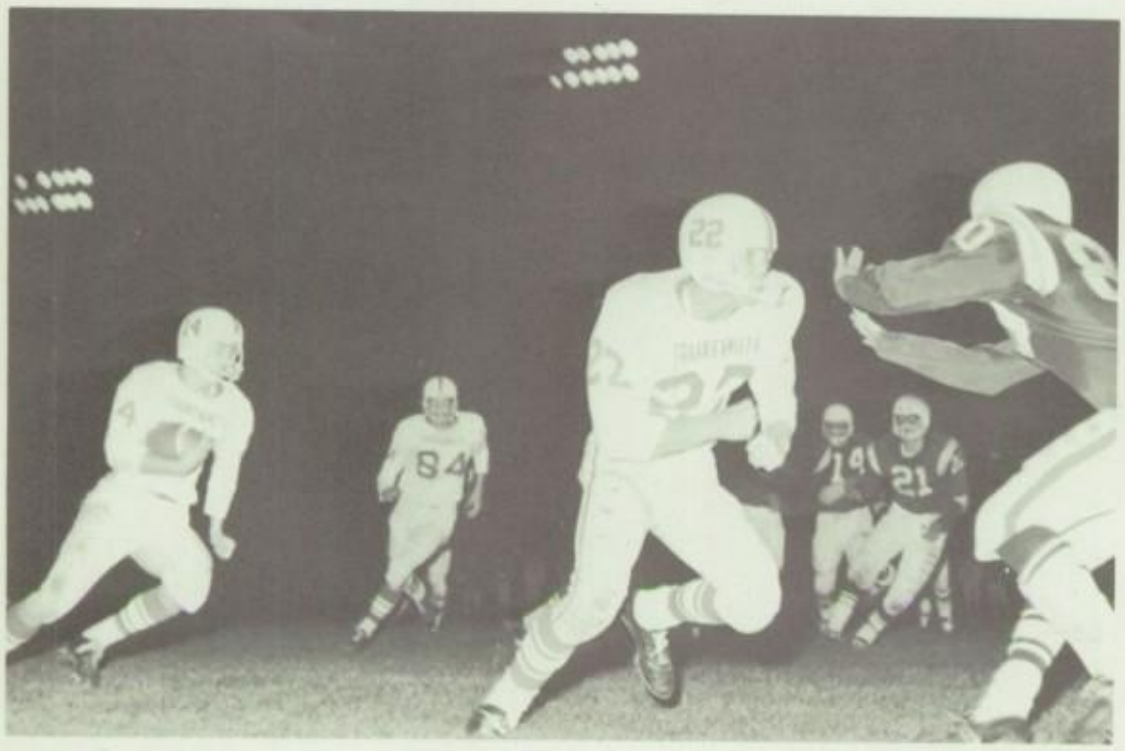
Despite comments to the contrary, 1968 proved to be a banner year for the Frankenmuth football team as along the way came various achievements and honors. The greatest defensive team, conference championship, area championship, and Frankenmuth's first State championship climaxed the many awards.

Most fans felt that the Eagles would field a poor team, but the players didn't feel they had less talent than teams before them. They went out, lived up to the Eagle tradition and journeyed on to boast the biggest season in Eagle history, 9-0.

Kim Koehler, Chris Ferguson, Rick Preston, Ralph Munger and Tom Auernhammer flash the victory sign after clinching the Thumb "B" championship.

STATE CHAMPS . . .



Gary Palmreuter (22) prepares key block paving the way for quarterback Chris Nuechterlein (14) as Mark Schiefer (84) follows the play.

Coaches Tompkins and Weber attribute the success to the exceptional leadership, tremendous hustle and desire put forth by certain individuals before the season started. The early determination rubbed off on other players and the teams worked as a unit for the entire season. Coach Tompkins gave much credit to the team captains and said, "The coaches can only be as successful as the leaders of the team."

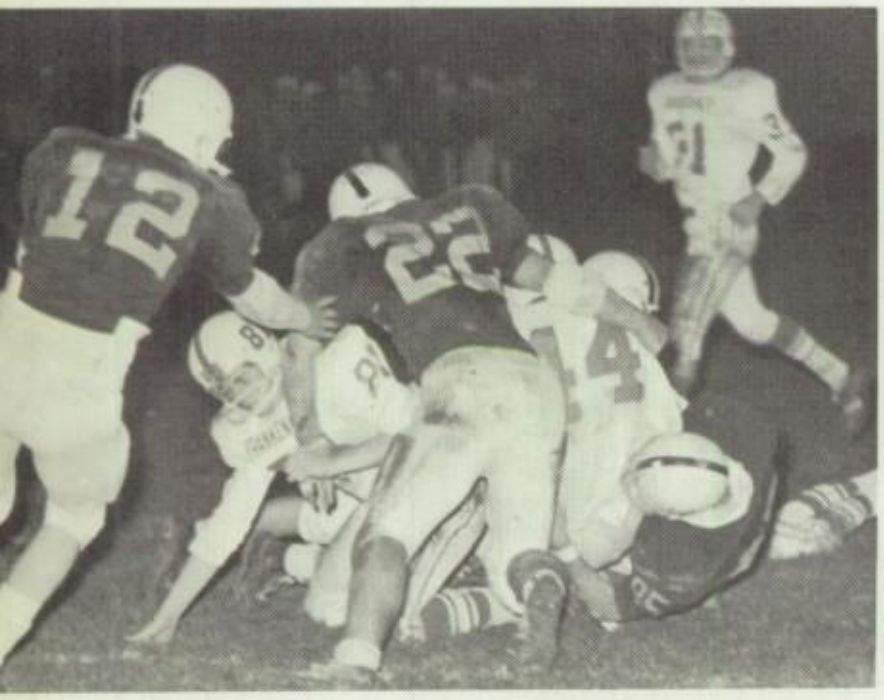
Coach "Bud" Tompkins plans game strategy with senior quarterback, Chris Nuechterlein.

Junior tackle, Kirby Goodwin (76) leads all-state Dave Trinklein (31) around left end for a long gain.

HISTORY OF A VICTORY . . .

As the 1968 Thumb B conference championship game with Vassar began, the traditional pep talks by Coaches Tompkins and Weber were given followed by a hard-hitting contest which proved Frankenmuth victorious.

Pre-game tension mounts as Coaches Weber and Tompkins go over strategy.



A powerful offense grinds upfield (left) to produce another touchdown, while a stiff defense (right) stops a Vassar threat. Both Frankenmuth's offense and defense were the best in the league in 1968.

Both Eagle fans and players enjoy post-game mayhem after winning conference crown.

Junior varsity football posted a fine season mark, with a 5-2 overall win-loss record. The J.V. offense rolled up 216 points for the season, while the defense allowed only 74 points for the seven game schedule.

One of the tougher games of the season was Bad Axe. The J.V.'s lost to Bad Axe according to the scoreboard. They will remember that game and will be looking forward to coming years when they may take revenge.

The football outlook for the future seems bright with such future gridiron heroes as Mike Kern, Bruce Weiss, Robert Galsterer, Chuck Sanders, Duane Suppes, Gary Schiefer, and Ron Mauer.

While showing much promise, the Frankenmuth varsity in their climb to the top, lost out in regional tournament play to St. Stephen's whose team continued on to capture the state championship.

A highly successful season brought back the conference basketball championship, after compiling a 13-1 league record. Big factors in the impressive year were the desire and the hustle used in the Eagle attack. Even though the Eagles were recognized for their young team, the seniors played a major role. Things again look bright for next year as four starting juniors return.

Cheerleading played an active role this year during athletic events. Under the instruction of Mrs. Sharon Stephans, the two cheerleading squads displayed their talents by taking part in assemblies, basketball and football contests, and also entered an act in the school talent show.

By attending summer cheerleading camp, and holding various clinics throughout the year, the squads maintained their form and created new routines, to motivate the student body.

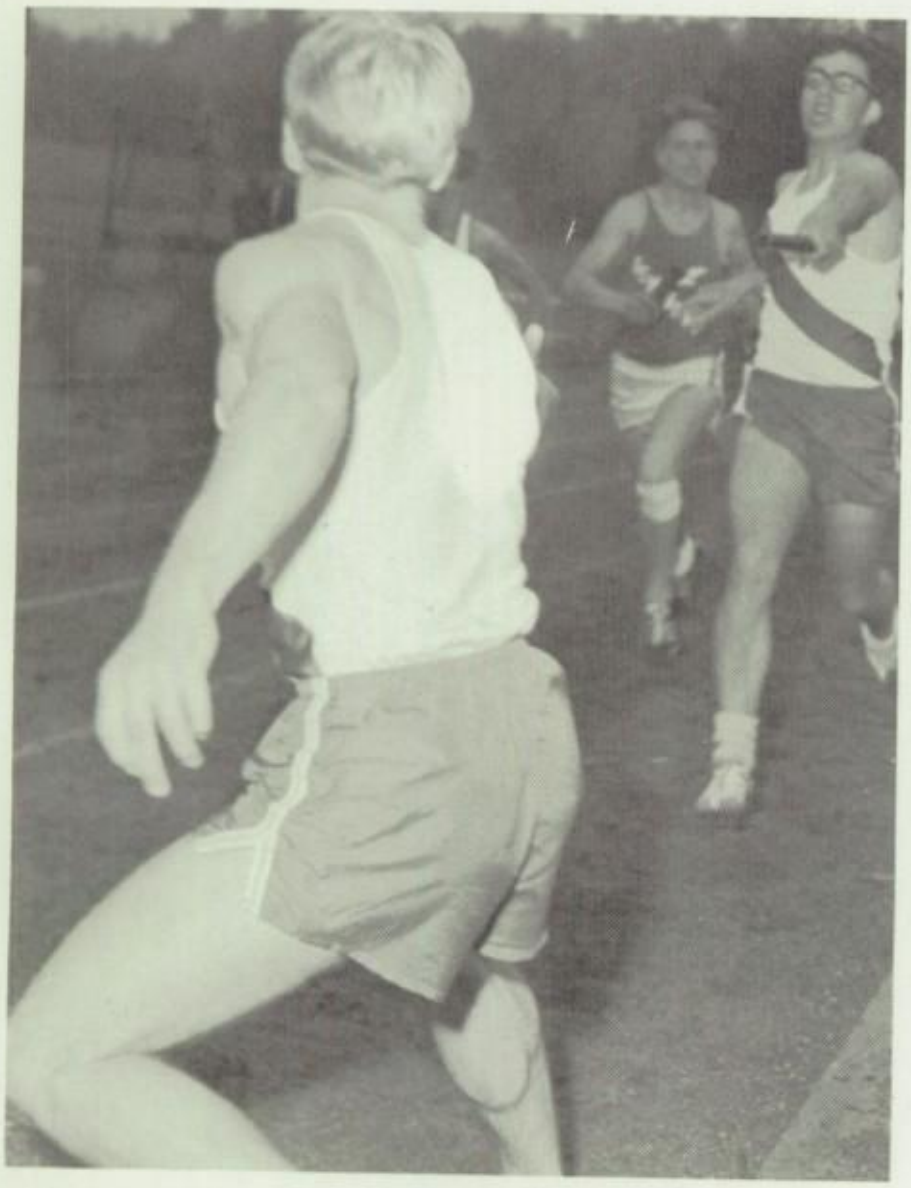
TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP . . .



Dave Trinklein anxiously waits for the baton from Duane Suppes in the Eagle's winning mile relay team.

Under the direction of Coach Arthur Pelzer, the 1969 track team soared to a conference championship, bringing the total to three for the year, also the regional championship. Sparking the Eagle team was Mike Reif, who was also named most valuable player. Dave Trinklein was captain of the team.

Setting a school record of 5'11" in the high jump, is Mike Piesko, shown below, practicing for a future event.

Senior, Edgar Keinath, sets pace for the exhausting two mile run.

Coach Pelzer helps Tom Weber off the track after he came from behind to win the mile relay at the conference meet.

AS WE CLOSE . . .

As we close the 1969 Eyrie, another school year goes down in the memory book of our minds as well as on the pages of a book. Through the past nine months Frankenmuth students have much to remember, and events of which all can be proud. The school year brought forth many honors and achievements, as the Eagles kept their winning ways in all areas of their endeavors, from football to debate, to track and forensics.

Above, Principal Marvin Hauck discussed with parents the possibilities and needs for a new school in Frankenmuth, which will be necessary in coming years. The need is evident as the community growth and school enrollment have spiraled at a rapid pace.

We remember, too, that the concern and guidance of faculty and parents, has contributed a great deal to the success of the past school year.

As we close, the staff of the 1969 Eyrie sincerely hopes that this edition of memories and events will serve as a momento of the school year.

To one of the great guys in the class of 70. There are others but you're really great when it comes to problems & wars. I wish ya the best a luck for your future years. I'll miss ya next year. Keep the rest of the team fired up. (with your mouth it is possible).

Good Luck
Always.

Tom,

Even though I am not a part of Lowell always think you're great.

Love,

Tom,

To a sweet guy
I will never forget.
We have had alot of little fights, but I have always considered
you as one of my best friends and I hope it will always stay that way. Without the advise you gave me (at the dance)
I wouldn't be any where. Thanks alot!!!!

Luv ya
Sam

Good Luck

PS This school sure isn't be the same when you leave.

Tom,

I really don't know what to say.
But ill think of something.

Tom, youre a really nice guy and Im really glad were friends. If it werent
for you, id be lost.
If you ever need information, just come to boots porch and ill be glad to help you if I can. Good Luck
this year in all you do, and with whom you do it with. Ill try to do my best in cheering this year and ill yell
my loudest, just for you. Good Luck
Always

P.S. Ducks are for swimming!!!

Luv ya,
Barb

I know you are this way. Good Luck in the future and I hope you are really successful in your life. Tom you have the greatest personality and you are a great guy. Have a nice summer. We have had our differences but I know you are one great guy. Have a nice summer. Hope to see you next year. Have a nice summer. Tom

Tom,
I don't know what else I could say except have a nice summer and write me sometime. Thanks.
(maybe see you on the dance floor)
Stay good always.
Love
